KERRIGAN HEADS MEET

Portland Fair Making Strenuous Efforts to Have Athletic Events a Success.

Portland, Ore., July 1.—H. W. Kerrigan, manager of athletics at the Lewis and Clark exposition in a letter received from J. E. Sullivan, secretary and treasurer of the A. A. U., has been given sole charge of making all the necessary arrangements regarding the A. A. U. national championship games to be held on the Lewis and Clark stadium Aug. 4 and 5. Mr. Kerrigan has been empowered to appoint his own working committee, with himself as chairman, to choose all officials, and to receive and close all entries.

In pursuance of Mr. Sullivan's letter, Mr. Kerrigan has named some of the officials for this big athletic event as follows:
Referee, J. E. Sullivan of the Metropolitan association of New York and secretary and treasurer of the A. A. U.; starter, "Jack" King of Portland; judge of finish, T. E. Riley of the New England association and standing delegate to the A. A. U.;
Judge of field events, F. E. Watkins of the Multnomah A. C. of Portland.
Mr. Kerrigan is considering the appointment of several more eastern officials.

Word has been received from the New York A. C. asking what rates can be secured from the Lewis and Clark stadium for the A. A. U. national championship games scheduled for Aug. 4 and 5. It is almost certain that the New York club will be present to compete in these games, as well as two athletic clubs from Chicago.

JOB OFFERED TO SHIELDS.

Former Conductor May Become Depot Master in Ogden.

William Sullivan, who for about nine months has been depotmaster in Ogden, yesterday turned over the records and reports of his office to Baggage Agent John Keating by direction of Superintendent E. C. Manson, and Mr. Keating will act as depotmaster until further notice. Mr. Sullivan will return to the "secret service" department of the Oregon Short Line.

The position of depotmaster has been offered to John Shields, an old Oregon Short Line conductor, who is now acting as train agent on the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road, but he may not accept.

PACIFIC MEET IS OFF.

Herbert Hauser Will Help Push A. A. U. Contests Along.

Portland, July 1.—Word was received today from Herbert Hauser, secretary and treasurer of the Pacific Athletic association, announcing that it had been decided to call off the P. A. U. championship track and field meet, scheduled to take place on the Lewis and Clark stadium July 31 and Aug. 1. Mr. Hauser states that this action was taken in order to concentrate all their efforts for the Amateur Athletic union national championship games and thus aid in making them a grand success. The Amateur Athletic union games are scheduled to take place on the Lewis and Clark stadium Aug. 4 and 5.

Mr. Hauser further stated that the Olympic club of San Francisco is leaving no stone unturned in its preparations for the Amateur Athletic union games, and that it will send to Portland the strongest and best team that ever represented the club on any athletic field.

The cases of Eli Blakely and William Smith, who got into a dispute over water and disputed so ardently that both were arrested for disturbing the peace, will be heard Monday in the municipal court.

Charles W. Crager, electrical engineer of the Utah Light & Railway company in Ogden, has been transferred to Salt Lake. Friday afternoon a number of the employees of the company in Ogden presented him with a handsome gold watch as a testimonial of his cordial relations with them.

A message was received yesterday from Mrs. Mildred Hyndahl of Boston, wife of Charles Hyndahl, who took a quantity of explosive material to the studio of H. H. Thomas Friday and died as a result. The wife instructed the undertaker that she would advise him later as to the disposition of the body, but asked that in the meantime it be prepared for burial.

The work of repairing the new quarters of the Western Union Telegraph company in its up-town office is about completed. After this is finished the workmen will install similar instruments in the office at the union depot. The new instruments are to be adjusted for the new system of receiving power. Hereafter the up-town office will generate and supply electrical power, not only for its own instruments, but for those of the railroad offices. All the instruments will be connected up at the same time and it may be two weeks before the change is made.

St. Petersburg, July 1.—The resignation of Minister of the Interior Boulenger is regarded as impending. He probably will be succeeded by Count Ignatieff, former governor of Kiev.

BEEF PACKERS ARE INDICTED

during a given week he was obliged to pay an "ante" of so much per hundred weight, according to the territory in which the matter occurred, into a pool to cover the excess of sales, and this fund was divided among the packers who fell short on their sales.

Sixth, certain corporations, namely, the Aetna Trading company and the Oppenheimer Manufacturing company were to be appointed exclusive agents of the defendants in the sausage casings and containers and these companies were to make arrangements with the several concerns which had been handling such merchandise in the markets of the world for working in harmony and controlling the output and price of the merchandise. This scheme involved the destruction or "tanking" of large quantities of casings whenever the supply was too great.

Small Packers Taken Care Of.

The Kenwood company, another corporation, was to handle oil and grease lines, excepting that there was to be no destruction of these commodities. These agents of the defendants were also to make contracts with small packing concerns throughout the country for taking their output of casings, and these casings were either to be destroyed or handled in connection with the goods of the packers.

The fourth count charges that the same matters mentioned in the third count as being in restraint of trade and commerce constituted an offense on the part of packers to monopolize such trade and commerce.

The fifth count specifically covers the handling of the by-products, casings and containers, for storage, steaming, and oils and describes a conspiracy in restraint of trade to be effective in the same way as set forth in the third count with reference to all of the product mentioned.

Competition Destroyed.

The seventh count sets forth the particulars concerning the organization of the National Packing company, and charges that the object and effect of that organization was to destroy competition not only between the packers who were interested in the National Packing company, but between the ten small other packing companies which were consolidated by the device of the National Packing company, and this is described as a conspiracy in restraint of trade and commerce.

Accepted Rebates.

The indictment against Messrs. Well, Cusey, Todd and Skipton of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger company charges that on the third day of February, 1904, the four men, and others to the jury unknown, to commit an offense against the United States by soliciting and accepting for the same place and on the occasion of the Chicago Central & Pacific railway, from certain railroads large sums of money as rebates of the money paid and to be paid by Schwarzschild & Sulzberger for the transportation of goods.

A specific case was mentioned against Cusey as having occurred on Jan. 22, 1904, when it is said he presented to the Chicago Central & Pacific railway, in favor of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, which claim was numbered 10,519 by the packing company, and 167,231 by the Chicago Central amounting to $978.80. A number of other cases similar in character were mentioned against Cusey and the other three men.

Appended to the indictment was a copy of a letter alleged to have been written May 19, 1904, by Cusey to Assistant General Freight Agent Freicht of the Mobile & Ohio, in which he declared that such business as Schwarzschild & Sulzberger had been giving the railroad had been diverted until the company received more consideration from the railroad.

Assistant Attorney General O. H. Pagan said, in explanation of the indictment:

Based on Sherman Law.

"The indictments are based upon the act of congress approved July 2, 1890, popularly known as the Sherman anti-trust law. The first section of this act makes it an offense for any person or corporation to engage in any combination in the form of trusts or otherwise or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce among the several states, or with foreign nations. Section 2 makes it an offense to monopolize or attempt to monopolize any part of such trade or commerce. The penalty under each section in case of conviction is a fine not exceeding $5,000 or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Of course, a corporation could not be imprisoned, and in this direction the punishment by fine is all that can apply. In all other respects corporations which are artificial persons stand in the same attitude as individuals under the law."

A Question Not Settled.

"The question as to what constitutes a trust is not thoroughly settled. Some authorities include in the definition of a trust the idea of placing stocks or other different corporations in the hands of another corporation to be held in trust and managed without the interference of the separate corporations which are thus put in combination. If this is the correct definition of a trust the indictment in this case does not charge the defendants with having formed a trust, there being no allegation that the stocks of the large packing companies are held in trust for the purposes of management. It is true that the stock of ten smaller packing concerns previously running in opposition to the big packers was bought up by individuals connected with the big packing corporations and placed with another corporation organized for the purpose of holding these stocks—the National Packing company; but this indictment makes no direct charge against the National Packing company or any of its officers, except such as were officers of the big packing companies."

But for defendants was fixed at $5,000, which they will furnish. They probably will not be tried until autumn.

GREAT CROWD PRESENT.

Indictments Against the Beef Packers Were Expected.

Chicago, July 1.—In expectation of the return of indictments in the beef cases following one of the most thorough investigations ever made by the United States government, the federal district court was crowded today with people directly or indirectly interested. It was expected that indictments would be returned against eighteen men, all of them leaders in the packing industry.

Six months ago S. H. Bethea, then United States district attorney, reported after an investigation that the injunction of Judge Peter S. Grosscup, restraining the large packing companies from combining in restraint of trade, was being violated in Chicago. Conferences with Attorney General Moody at Washington and President Roosevelt were had and a large corps of secret service men kept at work.

United States deputy marshal Edward St. Clair was made special agent of the treasury department and placed in charge of the secret service work.

Plenty of Evidence.

The investigation widened daily and most St. Clair was receiving reports from his agents in all parts of the world concerning the identity of men who could testify to certain facts concerning the packing industry, the actions of heads of the packing concerns, underground agreements and the like. The preliminary stage of the investigation came to a climax last February when 185 subpoenas were sent to fifteen large cities throughout the United States with instructions that by 10 o'clock on the morning of Feb. 21, deputy marshals should begin serving the papers. At the hour stated the marshals created consternation in many of the government was begun as a concerted movement in various parts of the country.

Myriad of Witnesses.

Later the number of witnesses called for reached a total of 250. The attack of the government on the so-called beef trust created consternation in many quarters, but although it was sudden many men desired as witnesses escaped service. Some have been found in Canada, some in Europe and others in various parts of the world, where they are safe from the subpoenas which are still in the hands of deputy marshals. Leading packers were shadowed and on one occasion a stenographic report of a daily reporter to the Chicago Tribune, which includes Y's Alice Roosevelt, packers in the lobby of a downtown hotel was taken by a detective. At this time it was discovered that private detectives, acting for some of the packers, were following federal officials and secret service operators, making daily reports to the packers. In their turn the government had these detectives followed. The investigation is calculated to have cost the government $300,000.
